P. W. & K.—The treatle work at the north end of the wharf is quietly progressing; lowards completion, while that on the end running into the depot is ready for the rails. Nothing has been done at this point towards finishing the laying of the track; the iron terminus still remains a little north of the suspension bridge. Graveling up is still progressing southward with a fair degree of speed, and by the time the track is laid across the wharf the gravel work will mearly have caught up with it. Next will come the rip-rapping from the Cotts property to the Top Mill, which will be necessary to preserve the embankment P. W. & K .- The trestle work at the property to the Top Aill, which will be necessary to preserve the embankment from washing. A considerable slip took place several days ago junal opposite the Monitor Company's coal float, caused by the soakage from a drain pipe, the month of which had been covered by the fill. Plenty of material for rip-rapping is said to be convenient to the road north of the city, and gonce the roadbed is ready for heavy trains the work can be, speedily done and without great expense.
